

Untitled

One time I saw a frog that was green,

Hopping in the grass.

I told my dad to look at it, and get a lily pad.

But he didn't listen at all.

Once I saw a tree that was swaying in the wind,

One of it's leaves fell off and it swayed there and back.

I caught it

I put it back where the tree lost it,

And then I skipped back home.